Under CHESSE, the Company will not issue certificates to investors. Instead, as soon as practicable after allotment, Applicants who apply for 2010 Options in accordance with this Prospectus will receive a holding statement (similar to a bank account statement) which sets out the number of 2010 Options allotted to that investor under this Prospectus.

The holding statement will also provide details of a security holder's Holder Identification Number (HIN), in the case of a holding on the CHESSE sub register, or Shareholder Reference Number (SRN), in the case of a holding on the issuer-sponsored sub register, which they must quote to their stockbroker if they wish to sell their 2010 Options. Applicants who choose to be registered on the CHESSE sub register will receive a further statement from CHESSE, acting on behalf of the Company, confirming their holding.

2.5 Rights Issue Offer

The terms and conditions of the Rights Issue Offer and the effect of that offer on the Company are contained in the separate prospectus for the Rights Issue Offer which was lodged with ASIC and ASX on 10 April 2007. The Rights Issue Offer is fully underwritten by Patersons Securities Limited subject to certain termination events and key details of the Underwriting Agreement are set out in that prospectus.

The Placement is not underwritten. It is expected that the Shares to be issued under the Placement will be issued prior to the record date for the Rights Issue Offer and the subscribers to the Placement will be eligible to participate in the Rights Issue Offer.

3. RISK FACTORS

There are risks associated with an investment in the Company, some of which are general risks and some of which are specific to the Company, its business and the industry in which it operates. Before subscribing for the securities offered by this Prospectus, investors should carefully consider and evaluate the Company and the associated risks. Some of the major risk factors which investors need to be aware of are summarized below. Any of these factors or a combination of all or some of them in the future could materially affect the performance of the Company and the market price of the Shares. The risk factors set out below are not exhaustive.

The 2010 Options offered under this Prospectus are considered speculative. Neither the Company nor the Directors guarantee any investment made pursuant to this Prospectus or the performance of the Company, including with respect to the payment of dividends, return of capital or the price at which the Shares will trade. Any person who applies for 2010 Options pursuant to this Prospectus does so in recognition of those factors.

The Directors recommend that investors examine the full contents of this Prospectus and all previous ASX disclosures and other public information on the Company and consult their professional advisers before deciding whether or not to apply for 2010 Options pursuant to this Prospectus.

(a) General risks

Share market fluctuations

There are risks associated with any investment and the share market generally. The market price of the Company's Shares and the shares which the Company may hold in its share portfolio from time to time may rise or fall depending upon a range of factors beyond the Company's control. Movements on international stock markets, interest rates and exchange rates, together with domestic and international economic conditions and government taxation and other policy changes may affect the stock market generally and the market price of the Company's securities.

Government policy

Changes in government policies relevant to mineral explorations and production, taxation, interest rates, and other legal, legislative and administrative regimes may have an adverse affect on the assets, operations and ultimately the financial performance of the Company and the market price of its securities.

Financing risks

The ability of the Company to actively explore and continue as a going concern and to meet its debts and commitments as they fall due is dependent upon further capital raisings. Any additional equity financing may dilute the security holdings of existing security holders. There is no guarantee that the Company will be able to raise capital when it is required or that the terms associated with providing such capital will be satisfactory to the Company. A lack of capital could have a material adverse effect on the Company's activities.

Contractual arrangements

The Company may be required to rely upon joint venture partners and contractors to supply services and infrastructure to it in order to conduct its operations. The supply of those services and infrastructure may be critical to the ongoing operation and development of the Company's interests. The financial failure, insolvency, management failure or other default of any party under those contractual arrangements may adversely affect the Company's operations and the financial performance of the Company generally.

Economic conditions

Economic conditions, both domestic and global, may affect the Company's performance. Factors such as general economic outlook, movements in interest rates and inflation rates, currency fluctuations, changes in investor sentiment towards particular market sectors, industrial disruption and the demand for and supply of capital can have an effect on operating costs, commodity prices and share market prices. The Company's future possible revenue and share price can be affected by these factors.

Commodity prices

The Company's prospects and share price will be influenced by the price obtained from time to time for the commodities targeted in its exploration programs. Commodity prices fluctuate and are affected by factors including the relationship between global supply and demand, forward selling by producers, the cost of production, the outlook for inflation, interest rates, currency issues and general global economic and political conditions.

Operational risk

By its nature, the business of exploration, mineral development and production which the Directors intend the Company to undertake, contains risks. Prosperity depends on the successful exploration and/or acquisition of reserves, design and construction of efficient processing facilities, competent operation and management and efficient financial management. For its part, exploration is a speculative endeavour, while mining operations can be hampered by force majeure circumstances, environmental considerations, adverse weather conditions and cost overruns for unforeseen events.

Environmental regulation

Mining activities may have an impact on the environment. The Company's operations in Australia and other countries are subject to State and Commonwealth laws and regulations and the laws and regulations of those other countries which govern environmental matters including environmental rehabilitation and the discharge of hazardous waste and materials. Although the Company intends to conduct its operations in accordance with applicable environmental laws and regulations, it is possible that environmental claims could arise in the future. Environmental difficulties may also adversely impact on the Company's exploration costs and/or the cost of mining any identified resources.

Native Title and Cultural Heritage

The Company's ability to obtain the grant of mining tenement applications and access to prospective exploration areas in Australia may be affected by Commonwealth and State laws and regulations governing native title, aboriginal land rights and aboriginal heritage matters.

The effect of the Native Title Act 1993 (Cth) (NTA) is that the tenements held by the Company in Australia and any future tenements acquired by the Company may be affected by native title claims and procedures. The administration and determination of native title issues may have a material adverse effect on the position of the Company. If native title rights do exist or if a native title claim is registered, the Company may need to comply with the procedures under the NTA in order to carry out its operations and such procedures may take considerable time and result in payment of compensation.

The discovery of Aboriginal sacred sites or artefacts on tenements held by the Company could limit or preclude exploration or mining activities within spheres of influence of those sites and result in delay and expenses in obtaining the necessary clearances.

Regulatory

In the jurisdictions in which the Company operates, both the conduct of its operations and the steps involved in the Company acquiring its current interests involve or have involved the need to comply with numerous procedures and formalities.

The Company's exploration and development programmes will in general be subject to approval by governmental authorities. Exploration in and development of any of the Company's properties will be dependant on meeting planning and environmental laws and guidelines and approval by governmental authorities. Delays may be encountered in obtaining these approvals.

(b) Specific risks associated with the Company.

Country and political risk

The Company has interests in developing countries, namely Indonesia and India. These countries are located in a region which has been, or continues to be, subject to significant political uncertainty. Changes in political, economic or social conditions in those countries, as well as the regulatory regime, may have a material adverse effect on the business of the Company's subsidiaries in those countries. Terrorist acts could also adversely affect the business of the Company's subsidiaries in Indonesia or India.

The Company's main project interest is located in Indonesia and conducted through an Indonesian subsidiary. Since the collapse of President Soeharto's regime in 1998, Indonesia has experienced a process of democratic change, resulting in political and social events that have highlighted the unpredictable nature of Indonesia's changing political landscape. In 2004, Indonesians directly elected the President, the Vice-President and representatives of the Indonesian parliament through a proportional voting system for the first time. Although the 2004 elections were conducted peacefully, future political campaigns and elections may bring a degree of political and social uncertainty to Indonesia. Any resurgence of political instability could adversely affect the Indonesian economy, which could adversely affect the activities or operations of the Company.

Mining and land rights

The Contract of Work of the Company's Indonesian subsidiary only gives the rights to mine the gold and other associated minerals beneath the surface land. It does not give any rights over the surface land. Consequently, the Company's Indonesian subsidiary will have to obtain rights to use the surface land for its activities by paying some compensation amount or purchase amount. The surface land may be occupied by indigenous people in the form of indigenous title. Delays or inability to obtain rights to use from landowners for exploration or exploitation work may have a material adverse effect on the activities or operations of the Company.

Regional autonomy law

The enactment of regional autonomy laws and regulations in Indonesia in 1999 has resulted in a major change in the regulatory environment, particularly for mining business in Indonesia.. Regional governments where the mining sites of the Company's Indonesian subsidiary are located may adopt regulations or decrees, or interpret or implement the regional autonomy laws or regulations in a manner that adversely affects the activities or operations of the Company.

Forestry Laws and Regulations

The enactment of forestry law in Indonesia in 1999 has had a substantial impact on the mining industry as open-pit mining activities within the area of protected forest are prohibited. In 2004 the President granted permits to certain mining companies, including the Company's Indonesian subsidiary, to continue working in the protected forest. Despite this, the applicable regulations provide that where the Company carries out exploitation activities in protected forest, the Company must provide replacement forest area to the Government from an area adjacent to the mining area which is free and clear from all encumbrances. Similar provisions apply for any exploitation work carried out by the Company in production forest, where the Company is required to find replacement forest area adjacent to the mining area of twice the size of the area being exploited for mining purposes. If the Company fails to provide such replacement area, the Company will be required to pay a royalty to the Ministry of Forestry equal to 1% of the proceeds sold from the mining activities. The Company may not be able to locate any such replacement area as required by the regulations, and this may have an adverse impact on the activities or operations of the Company.

National Park affecting the Indonesian operations

In April 2004, the Indonesian Ministry of Forestry issues a decree (National Park Decree) declaring part of the Company's Indonesian mining area a national park. Under Indonesian laws and regulations, mining activities cannot be carried out inside a national park. In November 2004, the Company commenced a legal action in the Indonesian Supreme Court for a judicial review of the National Park Decree on the basis that the applicable Indonesian laws and regulations in force at the time of the issuing of the National Park Decree did not allow the Ministry of Forestry to declare a national park over an area which was subject to pre-existing mining rights. The Supreme Court case is still pending. In addition, the Indonesian Government has assembled a working team to try to resolve the issue of the overlap between the national park and the Company's mining area. Whilst the Company's current exploration activity is not being carried out inside the national park area, the continued uncertainty and delay in resolving the dispute regarding the national park may adversely affect the activities or operations of the Company.

Suspension of mining activities and extensions of time under Contract of Work

As a result of the conflicts between the mining rights granted to the Company under the Company's Contract of Work in respect of the Indonesian project and the provisions of the protected forest regulations and National Park Decree, the Company has applied to the Indonesian Ministry of Energy and Mineral Resources for suspensions of the exploration periods relating to such protected forest and national park areas until the regulatory conflicts have been clarified. The granting or refusal of such suspension requests are within the discretion of the Ministry of Energy and Mineral Resources, and the failure of the Company to obtain such further suspensions may have an adverse effect the activities or operations of the Company.

Proposed new Mineral and Coal Mining Law in Indonesia

The Ministry of Energy and Mineral Resources in Indonesia has proposed a new draft law on mineral and coal mining which has been submitted to the Indonesian House of Representatives for consideration. The draft mining law addresses the regulation of the mineral and coal mining industries among the Government, the provincial governments and the regency governments. Although the current draft states that it will not affect any existing contracts of work, it cannot be guaranteed that the law will be approved by the House of Representatives in its present form. 4. RIGHTS ATTACHING TO SHARES AND 2010 OPTIONS

4.1 Rights attaching to Shares

The Shares to be issued on exercise of the 2010 Options offered under this Prospectus will rank equally with Shares currently on issue.

The rights and liabilities attaching to ownership of the Shares arise from a combination of the Company's Constitution, statute and general law. The following summary of the more important rights and liabilities attaching to the Shares is not exhaustive and does not constitute a definitive statement of the rights and liabilities of Shareholders. A copy of the Constitution may be inspected during normal business hours at the Company's registered office if prospective investors require further detail.

(a) Voting

At a general meeting of the Company, every Shareholder present in person, or by proxy, attorney or representative, has one vote on a show of hands. On a poll, every Shareholder present in person, or by proxy, attorney or representative has one vote for every fully paid Share held and a fraction of a vote for every partly paid Share held. The fraction shall be equivalent to the proportion which the amount paid (excluding amounts credited) bears to the issue price of such Share.

(b) Dividends

The Directors may from time to time declare a dividend to be paid to the Shareholders entitled to the dividend. The Directors may from time to time pay to the Shareholders such interim dividend as they may determine. No dividend shall be payable except out of profits. A determination by the Directors as to the profits of the Company shall be conclusive.

(c) Transfer of the Shares

A Shareholder may transfer Shares by a proper market transfer or other instrument in writing in any usual or common form or other form approved by the Directors or ASX or effected under the Corporations Act.

The Directors may decline to register any transfer of Shares where permitted to do so by the Listing Rules. The Directors must decline to register any transfer of Shares when required to do so by the Listing Rules. If the Directors decline to register a transfer, they must give to the transferee and lodging party written notice of the refusal.

(d) Winding up

If the Company is wound up, the liquidator may with the authority of a special resolution, divide among the Shareholders in kind the whole or any part of the property of the Company, and may for that purpose set such value as the liquidator considers fair upon any property to be so divided, and may determine how the division is to be carried out as between the Shareholders or different classes of Shareholders.

The liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution, vest the whole or any part of any such property in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of the contributories as the liquidator thinks fit, but so that no Shareholder is compelled to accept any shares or other securities in respect of which there is any liability.

Subject to the rights of Shareholders (if any) entitled to Shares with special rights in a winding-up, all moneys and property that are to be distributed among Shareholders on a winding-up, shall be so distributed in proportion to the Shares held by them respectively, irrespective of the amount paid-up or credited as paid up on the Shares

(e) Issue of further shares

The issue of any new shares is under the control of the Directors and subject to the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules and the Constitution, the Directors may issue, or grant options in respect of, such shares as they may, in their absolute discretion determine.

(f) Variation of rights

Subject to the Listing Rules and the Corporations Act, if at any time the share capital of the Company is divided into different classes of shares, the rights attached to any class (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of the shares of that class) may be varied, whether or not the Company is being wound up, with the consent in writing of the holders of three quarters of the issued shares of that class, or if authorised by a special resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the Shares of that class.

(g) General meetings

Each Shareholder is entitled to receive notice of and to attend, in person, or by proxy, attorney or representative, and vote at general meetings of the Company. A general meeting may be convened by the Directors but may also be convened on requisition as provided for by the Corporations Act.

4.2 Rights attaching to 2010 Options

The 2010 Options offered under this Prospectus will entitle the holder to apply for and be allotted Shares in the Company on the following terms and conditions (with a 2010 Option referred to in this Section 4.2 as an option):

(a) Entitlement

- (i) Subject to paragraphs (e), (f) and (g) below, each option entitles the registered option holder to subscribe for and be allotted one ordinary Share in the capital of the Company, credited as fully paid, at an exercise price of $0.20 per Share (Exercise Price).
- (ii) The Company must, as soon as it is reasonably practicable to do so, allot Shares on exercise of the options in accordance with the Listing Rules and register the option holder as a shareholder in the register of members in respect of the shares so allotted. No option may be exercised if to do so would contravene the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules.

(b) Exercise of Options

- (i) An option is exercisable by the registered option holder lodging the notice of exercise of option in the form set out below together with, subject to paragraphs (e), (f) and (g) below, the exercise price for each share to be issued on exercise and the relevant option holding statement, at any office of the Company's share registrar. The exercise of some options only does not affect the registered option holder's right to exercise other options at a later time.
- (ii) Remittances must be made payable to Oropa Limited and cheques should be crossed "not negotiable".
- (iii) Options may be exercised at any time on or before 5.00pm (AWST) on 31 January 2010.
- (iv) An option not exercised by 5.00pm (AWST) on 31 January 2010 lapses.

(c) Transfer

- (i) Subject to any restrictions imposed by ASX, options may be transferred at any time before lapsing.
- (ii) Options are transferable by any standard form of transfer. Executed and stamped transfers will be recorded in the Company's option register on lodgement of the transfer at any office of the Company's share registrar. The Company will issue a new holding statement in the name of the transferee for the number of options so transferred.

(d) Quotation

The Company must apply to the ASX for Official Quotation of the Shares issued on any exercise of an option. However the Company shall not be required to apply for quotation of the shares on the exercise of Options more than once each month.

(e) Dividends

Shares issued on any exercise of an option will rank pari passu with all existing ordinary shares in the capital of the Company from the date of issue and will be entitled to each dividend for which the books closing date for determining entitlements falls after the date of issue.

(f) Bonus issue

If the Company makes a bonus issue of shares or other securities pro rata to holders of ordinary shares (other than an issue in lieu or in satisfaction of dividends or by way of dividend reinvestment) at a time when:

- (i) an option has not been exercised in full; or

- (ii) an option has been exercised, but shares the subject of the exercise have not been issued in fulfilment of the Company's obligation in that regard, before the record date for determining entitlements to the bonus issue, then the number of shares over which the option is exercisable or has been exercised (as the case may be) will be increased by the number of securities which the holder of the option would have received if the option had been exercised before the record date for the bonus issue.

(g) Rights issue

If the Company makes an offer of ordinary Shares pro rata to all or substantially all holders of ordinary Shares (other than a bonus issue or an issue in lieu or in satisfaction of dividends or by way of dividend reinvestment) where (S + D) (as defined below) exceeds P (as defined below) at a time when:

- (i) an option has not been exercised in full; or
- (ii) the option has been exercised, but Shares the subject of the exercise have not been issued in fulfilment of the Company's obligation in that regard, before the record date for determining entitlements to the rights issue.

then the Exercise Price per Share will be reduced according to the following formula:

$$O^1 = \frac{O - E [P - S + D]}{N + 1}$$

Where:

O¹ = the new Exercise Price per Share

O = the old Exercise Price per Share

E = the number of shares in respect of which one option is exercisable

P = the average market price of Shares (weighted by reference to volume) sold in the ordinary course of trading on the ASX during the 5 trading days before the ex rights date or ex entitlements date

S = the subscription price (application money plus calls) for new Shares issued under the rights issue

D = if the ordinary shares are trading on the ASX on an ex dividend basis, the (if any) dividends (on a per share basis) which have been declared but not yet paid on existing Shares (except those to be issued under the rights issue)

N = number of Shares required to be held to receive a right to one new share.

The number of Shares which the option holder is entitled to subscribe for on exercise of the option is to remain unchanged.

(h) Reconstruction

The rights of an option holder will be changed to the extent necessary to comply with the Listing Rules applying to a reorganisation of capital at the time of the reorganisation.

(i) Advice

The Company must give notice to the option holder of any adjustment to the number of Shares which the option holder is entitled to subscribe for or be issued on exercise of the option or the exercise price per share in accordance with the Listing Rules.

(j) Right to participate in future issues

The option holder may only participate in new issues of securities to holders of Shares to the extent the option has been exercised, if that is permitted by its terms, and the Shares allotted in respect of the option before the record date for determining entitlements to the issue. The Company must give notice to the option holder of any new issue before the books closing date for determining entitlements to the issue in accordance with the Listing Rules.
